

WHAT DOES SUMMIT DO WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

Why?

Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.

What?

The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include:

- Social Security number and employment information
- assets and income
- investment experience and risk tolerance

How?

All financial companies need to share customers' personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their customers' personal information; the reasons Summit chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.

Other important information

Do Not Call Policy. This notice is the Summit Do Not Call Policy under the Telephone Consumer Protection Act. We do not solicit via telephone numbers listed on the state or federal Do Not Call lists, unless the law allows. Summit employees receive training on how to document and process telephone marketing choices. No telemarketing calls will be made to residential or cellular phone numbers that appear on Summit's Do Not Call list.

Affirmative Consent. In response to applicable state law, if the mailing address provided for your account is in a state that requires affirmative consent, including but not limited to California, North Dakota and Vermont, we will automatically treat your account as if you do not want us to disclose your personal information to non-affiliated third parties for purposes of them marketing to you, unless we receive your affirmative consent to do so.

Privacy Choice Notice If you would like to limit the personal information that your Wealth Manager is permitted to disclose or take if he or she terminates his/her relationship with all Summit entities, please check the box below. □ Do not share my personal information with nonaffiliates to market their products and services to me. You can withdraw your opt-out choice at any time by contacting us in writing at the address provided below. If your primary address is in a state that requires your affirmative consent to share your personal information with a non-affiliated firm, you will be requested to give affirmative consent before your Wealth Manager takes or shares your information with the new firm. By checking the box above and completing and returning this form as described, I am instructing Summit Financial, LLC to limit the personal information about me that my Wealth Manager can disclose or take if he or she terminates the relationship with Summit and moves to another brokerage or investment advisory firm. Please note that for accounts held jointly by two or more persons, the privacy choice to opt-out made by any account holder applies to all joint holders with respect to the account. This form will apply to all of your accounts unless you notify the firm differently. Please complete the following information: Name (please print clearly) Address _____ City _______ Phone Number Name of Summit Wealth Manager Signature Date
